FIRTH-EATON CONCERT

The Opera House was well filled last night to hear the Firth-Eaton concert company, who appeared under the auspices of Clark's orchestra. The entertainment was far in advance of anything given in Edmonton for some time. The solos by Miss Higgins and Mr. Firth were exceptionally good, while the impersonation sketches by Mr. Eaton were marvelously well rendered. The sketches were so well chosen, so refined and the costume so exceedingly realistic, that the audience almost forgot to applaud, so delighted were they with the entertainment. When the applause died, it was irresistible, and Mr. Eaton was compelled to respond time and again. Mr. Eaton's costumes were exceedingly good. Perhaps the most clever and best enjoyed number on the program was Reuben Ketchum in "Jinny Farms" by Mr. Eaton. It was wonderful. The large audience and the straining to catch every syllable and at the conclusion of the selection, the applause was deafening. Scarcely less clever were his sketches from Josiah Allen's wife. As "The Prima Donna," Mr. Eaton made a great hit, but it is doubtful if this number was as thoroughly understood by the audience at large as his preceding selections. When Mr. Eaton came on to the platform as "The Prima Donna," the audience involuntarily dropped their eyes to the program to discover the prima donna's name. Mr. Firth has a splendid baritone voice, and the slightest syllable in his selections can be distinctly heard. The Banderero and The Island of Dreams were delightfully rendered, but it was in The White Star of Heaven, one of Mr. Eaton's own compositions, that the strength and richness of his voice were shown. Mr. Firth has a particularly fine stage appearance.

The vocal selections by Miss Higgins were thoroughly enjoyed. Her first number, "A Dream," was excellent, but perhaps her most appreciated number was the rumbly song she gave as an encore to this.

Throughout the program Clark's orchestra played several selections, which were by no means the least enjoyed of the program. This orchestra furnishes splendid music and is to be congratulated on the style of entertainment they assisted in giving an Edmonton audience.

LOCAL

—Nagle & Hislop are shipping their furs to England.

—The annual report of the department of education, for the Northwest Territories has been received at this office.

—It is said that the Hudson Bay Company will erect a handsome large block for their store business in Edmonton next year.

—We are compelled to hold over Supreme Court proceedings at Fort Saskatchewan, and other local matter, for tomorrow's issue.

—The diamond pin put up for drawing by Mr. Watson last night was won by Mr. Robt. Spencer. The lucky number was 61.

—Word has been received from Agassiz, B.C., of the death of Mrs. (Rev.) Jas. Laing, sister of F. R. F. McKilrick, teacher at Poplar Lake.

—British Columbia papers of Tuesday, October 6th, to hand last night, claim that McBride, Conservative leader, cannot form a government.

—May and Copp have been awarded the contract for excavating the basement of the new Bank of Commerce block on Jasper avenue, immediately west of J. T. Blowey's furniture establishment. The Bank of Commerce will erect a large building on this site next spring.

—Chas. A. Bramble, editor of Red and Gun, published in Montreal and Toronto, and advertising agent for the C. P. R., was in Edmonton yesterday. While here he had a long talk with H. S. Young, regarding the land and water affairs of the north. Mr. Bramble was greatly pleased with his visit to Edmonton.

—The Bell Telephone officials along the Calgary and Edmonton line have applied to Edmonton business men, asking them to take the long distance telephone "central" into their stores. It will be interesting to watch developments along this line in Edmonton in the near future.

—The revised C.P.R. grain and flour tariff of which the trade was recently notified has gone into effect. Officials have been busy engaged in the work of revision for a fortnight, and have now concluded their task. The new tariff shows reductions of four cents per hundred pounds at competitive points in Manitoba to meet the C. N. R. tariff and two cents per hundred pounds at other points.

—Mr. R. E. Lampkin and Mr. Asborn arrived from Brantford, Ont., on Tuesday evening, after stopping over in Manitoba for six weeks viewing the country. They think the soil cannot be surpassed, especially what they have seen in the Edmonton district, and as to Edmonton, they think it is on a fair way to become a second Winnipeg in business, as it far exceeded their expectations in every way. They are contemplating taking a trip out to the Vermilion country and in other directions before returning east.

—Herald.—The telephone with the slot machine attachment has made its appearance in Calgary. A cabinet with a telephone and a triple slot machine has been installed in the Alberta hotel by the Bell Telephone Co. As yet the machine can only be used for local connections, although in a short time patrons will be able to get a connection as far north as Edmonton and as far south as Cardston. The line to Cardston will be completed, it is expected, about the middle of next month. The line to Edmonton will be ready for use in December.

—There was quite an exciting time at the Imperial Bank corner, Jasper avenue, yesterday afternoon. To commence with a very large traction engine in making the turn onto McDougall street ran into the ditch in front of Potter and McDougall's store. Another traction engine was secured to pull it out. At the same time a team had taken fright on Jasper avenue east and dashed up the street. At the Imperial Bank they collided with a farmer's wagon, one of the horses were immediately after the team turning a complete somersault. The horses were secured, one of the wheels and part of the rear axle of the wagon were broken off. This temporary blocking of the street served to show how really busy Edmonton is. All this took place in a very few minutes, but in this short time over a score of heavily laden rigs were blocked on a street.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN

Great Progress at the Fort—
Many Excellent Threshing Returns.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).
Fort Saskatchewan, Oct. 9.—Wilkin and Company have received another load of furniture by scow down the river from Edmonton yesterday.

A meeting of the citizens was called some ten days ago to consider the building of a skating and curling rink. A committee of the right kind of men was appointed to undertake the business, and work on the new rink was commenced yesterday.

Shers and Company's new brick store on Government street is nearing completion. The plate glass arrived last evening and was put in.

Threshing whistles are heard in every direction. Notwithstanding all the bad weather we have had, the grain is turning out very well. The weather this week has been all that could be desired.

Work is being rapidly pushed ahead on Dr. Donald's new residence on Government street.

The Queens hotel, which has been greatly enlarged, is rapidly nearing completion, as the mechanics are working night and day.

Mrs. W. F. Langworthy arrived home from Regina yesterday, where she has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Ritchie.

Miss Myrtle Johnston, of Winnipeg, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Bert Fraser, of Griesbach street south.

Wild ducks and prairie chickens are reported very plentiful in this vicinity this fall.

The painting of the Presbyterian church has been finished.

The Methodist Sunday school children were treated to an autumn picnic on the parade grounds yesterday afternoon. The day was grand and there was a large gathering. Games and sports were carried out after which the children had a feast in the parlour. Then all repaired to the church, where a fine program was rendered, at the close of which the children were treated to fruit and sweets. A most enjoyable time was spent by all and much credit is reflected on Superintendent W. H. McKee and his able staff of officers and teachers for the progress that is being made.

A large party of land seekers, who have been looking over the country to the east, returned here Wednesday night, very favorably impressed with what they had seen.

John Hamby is having a fine new residence built in the south end of the town.

Real estate is still active.

WEATHER

The weather has continued fine everywhere. The temperature was above 60 yesterday in many of the more western districts, but a severe frost was fairly general this morning. It is probable that the same weather will continue over Saturday in Manitoba, but further west it will become showery.

PERSONAL

R. Shilleto, of Lacombe, is in Edmonton this week.

Harry Vandrick, of Port Elgin, Ont., arrived in Edmonton last night and expects to remain here. He is staying with his aunt Mrs. Purches.

C. W. Mitchell, of the Ottawa Free Press, accompanied by his wife, is in Edmonton today in the course of a trip through the west. He is greatly pleased with Edmonton.

ANENT THE GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC

Alberta Star, Cardston.
The Lethbridge News says, re the government's scheme of allowing homesteaders to purchase adjoining odd numbered sections of land in the Northwest, and applying the revenue derived therefrom to help defray the cost of the Grand Trunk Pacific transcontinental line. "The Edmonton Bulletin," Frank Oliver's organ, that has in the past championed Northwest interests irrespective of party considerations, appears to be dumb on this important issue, and the Cardston Star actually says "This will be a great boon to the homesteader and relieve the taxpayers of any new burden resulting from building the said railway." That a Northwest Journal can be found supporting a proposition to rob the Territories of their heritage for the benefit of the whole Dominion is incomprehensible.

Unless the Star is misinformed, the News' ideas on land grants are sadly at variance with its past history. The Lethbridge News was doing business at the old stand when 20,000,000 acres of Manitoba and Northwest lands were alienated, with the profits, in many cases, reaching the pockets of private speculators. Did the News ever register a kick against these enormous intrusions of the Northwest? It would probably be refreshing history for the News to re-count the pages of its old files. Some "incomprehensible" utterances there might strangle their present magnanimous breathings.

The government in putting before the people a transcontinental railway scheme are confronted with the following conditions: the great demand for this railway which pre-eminently emanates from the members representing the Northwest, on the grounds that it was absolutely necessary to relieve the congestion of Northwest traffic, and secondly to open up for settlement lands not yet available under present railway facilities; again, public sentiment in the east is vigorously opposed to bountiful railways, especially if they happen to think that the main benefit accruing therefrom will be given to the Northwest. The eastern members are in the majority and the majority has the power to rule. When we have the strength to out-vote and out-voice the eastern members, then we may hope to build railways without any consideration from our own coffers.

The News says, "The funds derived from the sale of these lands should be placed to the credit of the Territories and not appropriated for Dominion expenditure." Suppose that they were sold and the funds placed to the credit of the Territories, and the Dominion government should by virtue of such a credit, require us to build our railways, how much better off would we be? Would we be as well off? Will the News explain the difference from a Northwest settler's point of view? The very fact that the News truthfully asserts that that section of the Grand Trunk Pacific in the Northwest will be the revenue producer, shows most conclusively that it is also here that it is most required. The members for the Northwest have tenaciously kept this before parliament during the discussion of the bill. Our own member for Alberta, in a public address delivered here prior to the convening of the present session, very clearly defined the plan he proposed to follow, which was to use his best efforts to secure another transcontinental railway. So far as we are able to decipher, he has done it. It must not be forgotten that the west (not only the Regina West, but the west) demands better railway transportation. It should not be looked upon as merely a benefit to the Dominion only in the sense that the Dominion includes the whole.

The Coming Metropolis.

Mr. R. I. Riley, manager of the Canadian Insurance Company, thus speaks of Edmonton in the Winnipeg Free Press:

"Edmonton reminds me of what Winnipeg was twenty-one years or so ago, during the boom. Not that there is that craziness in speculation and that rush to get lands and that sky-rocketing of prices, but the expectations for great things in the future are almost as high, and everyone is confident that Edmonton will be the banner town of the west outside of Winnipeg. They expect three railroads there, and the fact that the C. N. R. has already the station site mapped out and all in readiness to go ahead with the work, has told them there is more than mere talk in connection with all that is promised for the town."

OCTOBER 9TH, '03.

pendence.
Continental railway bill
and reading in the Common House for the consideration of the Senate. It was introduced on the 30th of July and received its third reading on the 30th of September.
During those two months it was the principal subject of consideration by parliament to the exclusion of a great deal of other important business. It was met by weeks of absolute obstruction by the opposition, and the third reading was only reached after the moving of a long series of amendments. It will scarcely be believed that after all the obstruction and week protests of the opposition, they did not line up to actually vote against the bill. Whether this was the result of accident or design it is impossible to say; but the fact remains that on the question of accepting or rejecting the proposal of the government they did not desire to be and were not placed on record. Five members can demand a count vote,
but not five members of the opposition demanded the count. It is votes and not talk that count, and the party which is not prepared to place itself on record against a project which it opposes, can only be accused of cowardice or of an attempt at double dealing. By opposing the measure during its progress through parliament, the opposition has shown that it is not the opposition to the bill, but the opposition to the government in an attitude of or against it.
It seems to him will best fit particular occasion or locality.
A fair sample of the political views of the present opposition and in itself, without regard to the merits of the case, cannot inspire confidence in either the sincerity or the judgment of the party.

On the motion for third reading on Tuesday Mr. Borden moved his double-jointed amendment, the main purpose of which was to prevent the Grand Trunk Company from competing effectively with the C. P. R. as a transcontinental system. This was defeated by a vote of 75 to 37.

Mr. Osler moved an amendment providing that all materials or supplies imported for the construction of the eastern division of the railway should be liable to customs duties, which should form part of the cost of construction. That is to say, that the government should not have the right to import material free of duty, and that the duties should be added to the cost of construction, thereby increasing the fixed charges on the road, and necessarily increasing the rates to be allowed by the government, and so making it less able to compete with the C. P. R. This was the amendment which was ostensibly made in the interests of the manufacturers,
and was defeated by 78 to 39.

Mr. Alcorn moved an amendment that the Grand Trunk Company should subscribe and pay in cash at least for the common and preferred
stock of the Grand Trunk Pacific Company, a provision which so far had not been required in Canada, and was
of any railway in this case as a means of embarrassing the situation and thereby baulking the scheme. This was defeated by 75 to 35.

Mr. Robt. moved an amendment that traffic west of Lake Superior should be at rates not to exceed the lowest rates being charged at the time by the Canadian Northern railway. The purpose of this amendment was to make it appear that the Manitoba government in its bargain with the Canadian Northern was the dictator of freight rates throughout the west, whereas the bargains between the government and the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific companies is entirely independent of,
and much more effective than, the bargain of the Manitoba government.
This was defeated by 74 to 34. This was the last vote taken.

It will be noted that the number of opposition members was decreasing and, therefore, when question was called on the next amendment the opposition agreed that it should be declared out on the same division. This was the course followed in regard to all following amendments, and on the third reading. Therefore, while the members did not stand up to be counted, as far as the record goes only 34 members of the opposition can be considered as having voted against the government's proposal. The opposition of over eighty members, on the most important question which has come before the country for twenty years, only mustered thirty-four members in the House when the final vote was approaching, and even these were not actually counted on that final vote. This is a fair measurement of the actual position taken by the opposition in regard to this railway question, notwithstanding their efforts to throw dust in the eyes of the public by voluminous amendments and weeks of obstruction.

Mr. Fowler moved that the government should not be bound under the agreement with the Grand Trunk Pacific company until the Grand Trunk Railway company had subscribed for the twenty-five millions of common stock of the Grand Trunk Pacific in cash at par. This was practically of the same purpose and for the same purpose as Mr. Alcorn's amendment, and was declared lost on the previous division.

FROM OTTAWA

Mr. Northrup moved that the Grand Trunk Company should be bound under the same agreement as the Grand Trunk Pacific Company in regard to the routing of traffic by Canadian ports. The purpose of this amendment was to require the Grand Trunk Company as a company to become a party to the agreement made with the Grand Trunk Pacific; thereby requiring it to do the very thing that the Grand Trunk Pacific was organized to render unnecessary, which the Grand Trunk Company could not do, and which to require it to do would compel it to be associated with the arrangement altogether. This was also declared lost on the previous division.

Mr. Lancaster moved an amendment providing that the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway should not issue any common or preferred stock otherwise than subject to payment in cash of the full amount of stock subscribed. This was of the same nature as the previous amendment, to debar the Grand Trunk from connection with the enterprise, and is a most original idea, as coming from the opposition. This amendment was declared lost on the previous division.

Mr. Blain moved that the work should not be proceeded with until information should be obtained from experts in regard to plans, gradients and probable cost. This would, of course, throw the enterprise over for another year at least, and probably for two years, leaving the C. P. R. in undisputed possession of the transcontinental business. This was lost on division.

Mr. Taylor moved an amendment in regard to routing of traffic to Canadian ports intended to place the Grand Trunk Pacific at a disadvantage as compared with the C. P. R. in its export trade. This also was lost on division.

Mr. Barker moved for an arbitration as to the respective earnings of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific on traffic interchanged between the two companies. This point is already covered in the agreement and the railway commission bill.

Mr. Henderson moved to make all payments by the government on account of construction, subject to the Audit Act, which is already practically provided for.

Mr. Bell moved that the Grand Trunk Pacific should give a mortgage upon the property and equipment of the western division as well as upon the equipment of the eastern division, to cover the obligations of the company under its lease of the eastern section from the government. This was asking a double security for something already fully provided for.

Mr. Bennett moved against the employment of Asiatic labor on the proposed railway. Already there is an import tax of $500 on Chinese, and the friendly relations between Japan and Britain make impossible any discrimination against Japanese.

Mr. Morin moved that from Quebec the proposed route should take a certain route through the county of Dorchester, which he represented. Although it was expected that the railway would take that route it would be unfair to finally fix it until surveys of other routes made comparison possible.

These amendments were all declared lost on division on Mr. Roache's amendment of 74 to 34; and the third reading of the bill was carried, with the consent of the opposition, on the same division reversed.

What the fate of the bill will be in the Senate is as yet a matter of some uncertainty and will depend considerably on the position taken by the ex-minister of railways. The Liberal majority in the Senate is small, but sufficient to carry the bill if it remains united. There are, however, several of the newly appointed senators who owe their position directly to Mr. Blair, and it is a question whether they will follow his lead in opposing the bill or not. If they do, it may possibly be defeated, but if they do not it will undoubtedly be carried. As for Mr. Blair himself, he has taken no part in the debate except by his one speech and by his vote against the resolution upon which the bill is founded. He was scarcely present at all during the debate on the bill itself, and was not present and, therefore, did not vote on any of the amendments proposed at the third reading itself. He had given no sign of his future action, and what he will do is known to no one except himself. It may be taken as an indication, however, that the St. John Telegraph, which is supposed to be very considerably under Mr. Blair's control, and which some little time ago seemed inclined to endorse the government's proposal, has since come out in strong opposition to it. By many this is taken to mean that Mr. Blair means fight. If he does he will certainly make a much stronger fight than did the opposition during the course of the bill through parliament.

Mr. Tarte is opposing the government strongly on the subject of protection to manufacturers, and incidentally the railway scheme as well, but his strong point is the policy of high duties.

October 1st, 1903.

MEET THE GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC

The News puts this question to its readers: "Is the projected arrangement any favor to the Northwest than that made in connection with the C. P. R. contract?" Well, rather! The settler gets the land at a price fixed by the government in whose legislative chambers the people have a representative. How many representatives do the people have in the synods of the mighty C. P. R.? The homesteader has the only right of purchase and the land does not go to a speculative railway combine free from taxation. The lands are taxable for the benefit of the schools and public works. They are not given away with a big fat cash subsidy as a pound of tea to take them and an exemption clause to help the thing along.

The Star believes that the west wants the railway and wants it the worst way! Just as the Caraduff Gazette (Conservative) reasons, the Grand Trunk Pacific is the only feasible proposition at the present time. There may be other and better policies advanced, but they are not likely to materialize, they are only in the air, and the time wasted in hoping and waiting is not sufficient to warrant the delay.

There is no one with the interests of the Northwest at heart who would not immediately say that it would be much better if the railway could be built and these lands reserved, but if they must be sold, it is not a boon to the homesteader to have right of purchase and thus shut out the land monopolist or speculator who would tie him and his progeny within the confines of his quarter section!

The people have the ballot in their hands and they will be given an opportunity of showing their pleasure or displeasure. We believe they are wise enough and independent enough to decide these things for themselves. We do not claim perfection for our ideas, or that our opinions are the finished product of the best and universal sentiments of the Territories. We are just as liable to err as the Lethbridge News.

We believe that the homesteader who reads understandingly the history of the past would rather take this bird in the hand than wait with his snare for one that might possibly be chirping in some foreign bush.

We are not blind to the fact that there are many virtues in the propositions outlined by the opposition, but they are not available.

The Regina West (Conservative) on the 15th of July last said, "We protest against the almost criminal delay in giving to the west the railway facilities that we require." These are exactly our sentiments in a nutshell.

When we get the railway we shall see that the advantages more than cancel, in the way of opening up new lands, the "inconveniences" of today.

What we want is another transcontinental railway.

SELECTION OF THE BREEDING SOW

Since the pork packers are in closest touch with the British consumer, they are the most competent judges of the class of hogs required for the most profitable trade; and we find that they recommend the use of Yorkshires and Tamworths as especially suitable for the production of bacon hogs, while Berkshires of the newest type are also excellent. The other breeds are not, as yet, so well adapted; but, as has been already stated, the breeders of these breeds are rapidly bringing their pigs into line, and sows of these kinds when crossed with males of the more approved breed type, produce good bacon pigs. These cross-bred pigs frequently make more economical gains than the purebreds. The Yorkshire-Berkshire and Tamworth-Berkshire cross is especially popular.

No breed or combination of breeds has a monopoly of all the desirable qualities in a pig. There are good and bad in all breeds, and bad and worse in some. It does not follow that because a hog is of any given breeding he is necessarily a good or bad bacon hog. It is necessary, therefore, that the breeder of market hogs have a clear conception of the ideal pig; then he will be in a position to make the best use of the materials at his disposal by judicious selection and careful breeding.

It is commonly believed among breeders of live stock, that if sire and dam be equally well bred, the former has the greater influence on the conformation and the latter on the nervous temperament and feeding qualities of the progeny. Whether this be true or not, care should be taken in selecting the females of the herd to choose only those of a quiet, contented temperament. Few things are more exasperating than a roving, noisy, discontented sow; not only is she a continual menace to her pigs and sows, but she is cross at farrowing time, and is quite as likely as not to destroy half of her litter in some fit of nervous excitement. In addition to this, a sow of this description is seldom or never a good milkmaid, and every stockman knows the profit or loss on a batch of pigs is determined largely by the start they get in life during the first six or eight weeks. The milking qualities of the sow is a matter too often overlooked or ignored when selecting the females for a breeding herd. Many men seem to take it for granted that if they can get a sow to produce a large litter, she will, as a matter of course, nourish them afterwards. This is a grave mistake. Sows vary in their milking qualities, just as cows in the dairy do in their milk.

An unsuckled herd. Among pigs the ability to give a large flow of milk is more a family trait than a breed characteristic; that is to say, different families of the same breed differ more in this particular than do the different breeds, each considered as a whole. It is, therefore, largely a matter of selection. A well-formed udder is, of course, essential. There should not be, of course, too large, but fourteen, well developed, evenly placed teats, extending well up to the fore-legs. The sow should be large and roomy, with great length and depth of side; she must, however, be trim and neat in her outlines, showing no tendency to bagginess or flabbiness, and, though not wild or nervous, she must be active in her movements. A heavy, listless, clumsy walk should not be tolerated in breeding stock of either sex; it indicates a lack of vital force, and an animal with this characteristic is not likely to be so propent as one with a more active, sprightly temperament.

The brood sows should be selected from prolific families. A sow must raise a given number of pigs each year to pay expenses, and each additional pig represents a profit. There is, however, a limit to the number of pigs in a profitable litter; very large litters are apt to be weak and uneven in quality. Few sows can properly nourish more than fourteen pigs, and an even litter of from eight to twelve large, strong, lusty fellows is much more profitable than a litter of sixteen or eighteen weak, flabby, and ill-nourished pigs.

What Is the Matter With Canada?

"She's All Right."

The relative percentage of the growth of trade of Canada as compared with the United States for the last five years show that of Canada as over double.

What Is the Matter With Manitoba and the Territories.

"They're All Right."

Winnipeg is now the great wheat centre of America, its receipts greatly exceeding that of either Chicago or Duluth, Superior.

Westward the course of Empire makes its way. A few years ago the great wheat centre was Chicago, it soon shifted west to Duluth and now further west to Winnipeg. Winnipeg clearing house receipts rank 8th in Canada.

Eastern Wholesalers, Manufacturers, Bankers, Capitalists and Railway Corporations, recent the possibilities of this great country and are fast invading the west, realizing that west of Lake Superior is going to be the great part of Canada.

What Is the Matter With Edmonton?

Edmonton is All Right and No Mistake About It.

A few years ago this place was scarcely known to outsiders, and then only as a remote Hudson Bay Company Trading post, now it is next to Winnipeg the best known and most largely and freely advertised town in Canada.

Influential bodies touring the West now always take in Edmonton, knowing that they will miss seeing the best part of the West if they don't. We could fill pages with extracts from their letters to papers in all parts of the world predicting a wonderful future for Edmonton.

The district, the location and the progress of events certainly justify such predictions.

Our town has doubled its population inside of two years, it will again do so within the next two years. Edmonton is going to be a large city. We believe it, and everybody says so.

Three years ago we had a large quantity of land for sale and in offering it for sale we said "Every person has had the opportunity offered, which if taken advantage of would have brought in rich returns. In many cases this fact is recognized too late, and looked back upon with regret." SUCH AN OPPORTUNITY we now offer you; do not let it pass. BUY LAND and MAKE MONEY.

We sold nearly a quarter of a million acres and those we sold to have been able to double and triple their money.

We now have Another Opportunity

To Offer. This time it is

TOWN LOTS,

We have surveyed the Alex Rowland Property, adjoining the town, north of Rat Creek, into Lots 33 by 120, with good wide streets, lanes and boulevards.

These Lots we are now offering at from $40 to $150 each on easy terms.

This is a beautiful residential site, high, dry and clean and is going to be a very popular locality, being so convenient to the business centre and being outside the town limits free of Municipal taxes.

Many enquiries for them are already being made.

The Sale Will Begin on

OCTOBER, 15 TH.

Take advantage of this opportunity and you won't have to look back upon it with regret as another lost chance.
